UNITED CHURCH HAD SPLENDID YEAR

The annual meeting of Crossfield and District United Church was held in the church parlor on Friday evening when very gratifying reports were given by the various organizations. Rev. H. V. Ellison occupied the chair and the meeting opened with a devotional period.

The report of the Ladies' Aid showed they had been a very energetic group during the year and in a good financial position. Mrs. Ellison, reporting for the Sunday School, told of the progress being made and that they were starting the year with a balance on the right side of the ledger. C.G.I.T. reports by Miss Gough and Mrs. Adams revealed that the girls had an active year.

The financial report, given by the secretary-treasurer, J. Belshaw, showed the year just closed to be one of the best for a number of years. All obligations had been met in the general fund, with a balance on hand; an encouraging increase had been made in givings to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the church; the building fund also has money on hand and every prospect that obligations will be met when they come due.

The appreciation of the Board was expressed for the loyal work of the choir and organist and assistance was granted for purchasing music. Mrs. Ballam reported 26 boys and girls enrolled in the Mission Band and all showed keen interest in the work.

Nominations for the Church were next in order and the following were duly elected: F. Purvis, W. Stralo, J. P. Metheral, T. Mair, G. Murdoch, E. Fox, A. E. Edlund, M. N. Jones and J. G. Harrison. The appointment of a secretary-treasurer was left to the Board.

The minister in his remarks on the state of the world said "the financial condition of the church is in better condition than it has been for a long time, but that isn't the most important work of the church—there is much indifference in regard to the spiritual work". He made a strong appeal for "a new loyalty to Christ and His Church in these difficult war days in connection with the vital things for which the Church stands".

Refreshments served by the Ladies' Aid and a social hour brought the evening to a close.

The R.A.F. also bombed airports at Benghazi (No. 4) in Libya. Sicily is marked (No. 1).

VILLAGE AFFAIRS IN GOOD SHAPE

The Crossfield Village financial statement issued last week shows the affairs of the Village to be in a good, healthy condition. There is no outstanding debt. The total liabilities, less school arrears, is only $395.42 made up of small current items. The assets amount to $12,141.69; $9,461.11 over liabilities. The outstanding taxes this year are over $700.00 less than last year. Bank balances this year also show an increase of over $600. more than last year.

THE SERIOS REPORT—

With no support from the premiers of Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia the Serios report has been temporarily shelved.
 However it will live to see another day, when a complete analysis will be made, perhaps not until the war is over—but eventually it will come to the surface again for it contains many good features that should be worthy of further sincere consideration.

TOURISTS—

This year perhaps more than any other the provincial government should use all available means in pointing out the beauty spots of this province to the folks in the Eastern provinces of Canada.

A big percent of the folks down east have never been away from the old farm home district, and if they could be induced to visit Western Canada they would have a wonderful time visiting relations and looking over the wonders of the West for the first time.

WAR SAVERS WANTED—

One of the many features of the War Savings Certificates campaign to be launched in February is the emphasis placed on the number of Canadian citizens participating, rather than on amount of money to be placed.

With some 200,000 voluntary workers combing the factories, offices, stores and homes throughout the country during the month of February, there is little reason to doubt the successful end of the campaign. But more important than the announcement from Ottawa at the end of February that Canadians have pledged themselves to buy ten million dollars worth of certificates each month, will be the other announcement that two million loyal citizens are regularly participating in this pledge.

No one understands the real pleasure of home ownership until he has bought his own land and house. Similarly, a citizen of Canada cannot share in the true pride of Canada's achievement in this war until he has a personal financial stake in Canada's war effort.

The steady increase in one's holding in War Savings Certificates will steadily increase the pride of the individual in his country and what it stands for.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Dr. C. H. Goulden, Senior Agricultural Scientist for the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, and an acknowledged International authority on plant breeding, has kindly consented in this column this week to explain about the new Registered strains of rust-resistant varieties. This is what Dr. Goulden says:

"It is important for farmers to distinguish clearly between Certified and Registered stocks. When a new variety is distributed it may be certified under the Plant Products Division of the Dominion Government, which establishes the correct identity of the variety, but such varieties may not be Registered until they have become well established.

When varieties are registered they have been approved by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and Foundation stocks have been produced by Plant Breeders and distributed to Seed Growers.
 As a general rule, Foundation stocks of new varieties are produced by a process of selection and testing covering a period of about three years, after which time they are increased for distribution to Seed Growers, and are then multiplied by Seed Growers and distributed to farmers as Registered seed.

The two varieties known and Regent are examples of varieties which have gone through this procedure, and in which definite improvement has resulted. There is an improvement in yield, earliness, straw strength, disease resistance and quality."

Following factors have tended to raise price: Cold weather is threatening parts of U.S. winter wheat crop — A cold wave is spreading across European crop areas — Japan's 1940 rice crop is estimated at 12% less than in 1939 — Damage to crops by flood is reported from the Balkan countries — Finland, Spain and Portugal are negotiating for hard wheat and other foodstuffs.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Wheat cutting in the Argentine is making good progress — The Eire Government is planning a greatly increased domestic acreage to wheat — Corn prospects in Argentine continue very satisfactory — Russia is offering grain to any country in a position to buy it

IODINE FOR LIVE STOCK

A mineral substance about which the live stock raiser should be concerned is iodine. The crops and drinking water in many sections of Canada are lacking in this element and the shortage leads to the birth of young suffering from disturbances such as goitre in lambs and young calves, hairlessness in young pigs, as well as joint-ill or navel-ill in young foals. The remedy for these troubles involves the feeding of iodine in the form of potassium iodide to the pregnant female. During a long, cold winter with deep snow, the pregnant animals take little exercise and do not access to the soil. Exercise is always beneficial, and the soil seems to be a general regulator for the system. It is probable for these reasons that hairless foal litter are almost unknown, full calves and foals are almost always strong and there is almost no trouble with late lambs.

Another drawback to the snow is that many animals are either eating snow or drinking snow water and, while the water from many deep wells contains sufficient iodine for the requirements of live stock, snow water on the surface or in shallow wells does not contain any iodine.

Feeding potassium iodide requires very little extra work. It is not expensive and may be purchased from any druggist. The saving of one litter of pigs or one calf, lamb or foal will many times over pay for the cost of the potassium iodide and the labour of feeding to all breeding animals.

The treatment must not be put off long after the sows and ewes are settled. They should be given it at least the eighth month of pregnancy to be sure of results. All pregnant females should be given ten grains of potassium iodide during the last three months of pregnancy.

For Cows—The iodine of potassium iodide in one gallon of water and mix in the feed or drinking water one tablespoon of this solution once a day for each month now; or mix two ounces potassium iodide in 100 pounds of dry salt, feeding the salt at 1 pound in 100 pounds of grain.

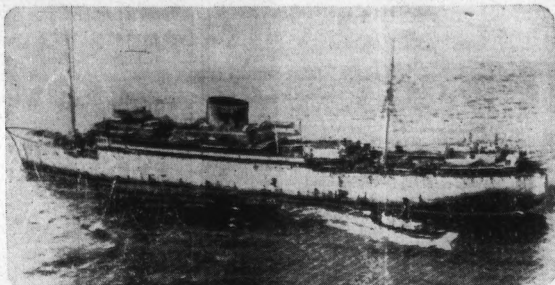

For Ewes—Dissolve 1 ounce potassium iodide in as small a quantity of warm water as possible. Spread 52 pounds of dry salt as evenly as possible on a clean floor and sprinkle the solution of potassium iodide evenly over it. When dry, place the salt where the sheep may have access to it at all times.

For Pregnant Cows—feed the potassium iodide in the salt in the same way as for ewes, but it may be found that some cows take very little salt. In this case give the cow one-third of a teaspoonful of finely powdered potassium iodide once every two weeks in the food.

For pregnant Mares—give each mare, once every two weeks, a half teaspoonful of potassium iodide crystals, dissolved in their drinking water or mixed with oat chow.

Salt should always be supplied to stock in granular form rather than in blocks during the winter as it is difficult for an animal to secure its requirements from the hard block. —Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe.

The teacher was testing the knowledge of a kindergarten class. Clapping a coin on the desk, she said sharply: "What is that?"

"In-tantly came a voice from the back row, "Tail."

It was the ship's concert and the song was "Asleep in the Deep". The singer had got well and truly deep when an awed voice from the back of the hall was heard: "rickety, he'll scuttle himself."

"Do you think you could learn to swim, for me?"

"O yes, I'm studying to be a water nurse."

A farmer was testing the intelligence of a hand who was regarded as an engine as a simpleton. "In engine style," exclaimed the farmer, "I keep a donkey. If I fill three buckets—one with milk, another with water, and a third with ale—which will Noddy drink?"

The simpleton scratched his head. Then he replied: "He'll drink the water."

"Quite right, my boy. And why is that?"

"Because he's an ass," concluded the simpleton with a vacant smile.
